Union Pacific Is Building Jetties Near Calhoun Bluffs.

Woman Loses $240 on a Union Pacific Train.

Preliminary work has been commenced by the Union Pacific railway for the building of jetties along its tracks near that portion of the Grantville road, northeast of the city, that was washed out last summer. Outfit cars have already arrived and material is being rushed here as rapidly as it can be obtained.

The railway will build seven jetties on its right of way northeast of North Topeka. It may also put several jetties on its property northwest of the city. It will take four months to complete the work, it is estimated. A number of North Topekans strongly favored the re-building of the old Grantville road over exactly the same ground it covered before high water washed away a portion last summer, if arrangements could be made with the Union Pacific railway. Negotiations apparently brought no results and the county commissioners mapped out a new Grantville road which was opened last week.

Her Supporter Slipped. The "Woman's National Bank" has lost another and it is due to the inefficiency of a supporter that the confidence vanished.

A young woman travelling on Union Pacific train No. 129, Thursday morning, left the train to walk on the platform of a station before it stopped here. Before she stepped off the car, however, she deftly slid her hand over the improvised safety deposit vault and assured herself that $240 deposited there was still on deck. Shortly before the train pulled out North Topeka her hand on resting over the "safe" failed to detect the familiar bulge. A hasty examination proved that the "cash" was not there. Then she turned in the alarm.

The $240 calmly resting in the rear end of the car was found by the Pullman conductor who returned it to the excited passenger.

The money made the remainder of the trip in different quarters. Ernest B. Nash Is Dead. Following a long illness, Ernest B. Nash, better known as "Jack," died in his room, 826 North Kansas avenue at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Mr. Nash, who was 73 years of age, had been an employee of the Santa Fe railway for more than thirty years. Two years ago, he was compelled to give up his position on account of ill health.

Mr. Nash is survived by a sister, Mrs. H. B. Smith, of Woodstock, New Brunswick, a stepson, William S. Sherwood, of 1209 North Kansas avenue, and a niece and nephew, Miss Pearl Nash, of 1029 North Jackson street, and Harry Nash, of Grantville. The funeral will be held at 3:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon from Conwell's chapel. Burial will be in Rochester cemetery.

Halloween Party at Lyman School. More than 150 guests last night attended a Halloween party at the Lyman school house, north of the city. A general invitation had been extended by Dave Wallace principal of the school who had charge of the arrangements for the affair and the attendance was one of the largest that has ever turned out to an entertainment of that nature.

Twelve gallons of cider and numerous wienies were served and not a single untoward circumstance appeared to mar the evening.

Notes and Personals. A Halloween party was given at the home of Miss Mabel Suit, 1327 North Jackson street, Friday night by members of the Progressive class of the second Presbyterian church. ## "LET GEORGE DO IT"

Dr. Harding Protests Against the Importation of Charity Workers.

That Shawnee county is spending $6 to give $1 to charity, was the charge made against the Shawnee county commissioners at the commission meeting Friday by Dr. Eva Harding. Following a heated wrangle over the sins of commission and omission of the county board, as analyzed by Dr. Harding, Fred Nippa, chairman of the board, offered to set aside $300 a month for the use of any society that Dr. Harding says the society will be organized.

"The trouble with Topeka charities is that they spend altogether too much money investigating before acting," Dr. Harding told the commissioners. "The county and city are spending a lot of money in bringing so-called experts from other states when, if an investigator is really needed, there are dozens of persons right in Topeka who know more about actual conditions among the poor in a minute than the most of these imported experts know in an hour."

"The county is hiring a board of commissioners and a poor commissioner. Why not let them do the work instead of giving good county money to a bunch of charities that are spending more money on flapdoodle and facts which they appear to think are needed to investigate than they are giving to the needy poor?" Dr. Harding cites that practically every investigator and active worker in Topeka charitable institutions is imported from other cities.
